Standard errors for different subsample percentages